HUNDREDS AIRPLANES FLY AROUND ATLANTA

Inauguration of Southern Field
Aviation Camp Witnessed by Thousands.

(International News Service.)
Americus, Ga., July 5.—Twenty thousand people yesterday afternoon saw the opening demonstrations inaugurating Southern field aviation camp, witnessing the greatest aeroplane exhibition ever seen in the southeast. Over a hundred machines were in the air, circling, diving and doing all sorts of hair-raising stunts. Field and track events rounded out the day.

HOPEFUL OF DEFINITE POLICY AS TO RUSSIA

Believed President Has in Mind
Personnel of Commission to Co-Operate With Francis.

(International News Service.)
Washington, July 5.—Advocates of action in Russia were today hopeful that a definition of policy toward that nation will be forthcoming shortly. They based this belief on the fact that President Wilson made only passing reference to the Russian situation in his speech at Mount Vernon. In view of the fact that the entire Russian situation has been the subject of sweeping exchanges between the entente powers and the United States during the last couple of weeks, it is believed that the proposed plan of action has about been agreed on.

That the president has the personnel of a Russian commission in his mind is not doubted. That commission will be sent to Russia to co-operate with Ambassador David R. Francis in the latter's efforts to bolster up the anti-German elements in Russia.

Meanwhile all of the information reaching this country shows that the unrest throughout Russia is increasing. Famine conditions prevail everywhere, while in those sections where the Germans retain control through their armies the civil population is being exploited for the benefit of the central powers.

SHAME OF BREST-LITOVSK PEACE WEIGHS HEAVILY

Kerensky Says Russians Will Perish Rather Than Submit to German Tyranny.

(Associated Press.)
Paris, Thursday, July 4.—Alexander F. Kerensky, the former Russian premier, today told the Associated Press that between November, 1917, when his government fell, and May, 1918, he was in hiding in various cities of central Russia. At first he was in Petrograd and later in Moscow, and did not leave Moscow until May 25. The Russian leader said that at all times he was in contact with political leaders of the parties opposed to the bolshevik regime. Surprise was expressed that a man so well known as Kerensky, with a price on his head, could remain in the largest cities, plotting against the bolsheviks, without being arrested. It was suggested that the police system in Russia must be very poor.

"The police system in Russia is all ways very poor," Kerensky replied. He refused to say how he had left Russia, as he might incriminate friends who had aided him.

Like a Hunted Man.

Kerensky presents the appearance of a man who has been long hunted and is in fear of his life. He is very nervous and looks about quickly when any one approaches him from behind. "You cannot understand the horror of our situation," he said. "The shame of the peace at Brest-Litovsk has caused our friends and allies to consider the Russian people as a deserter, but the Russian people will perish rather than submit to German tyranny."

SAMMY CAPTURES GERMAN GUN CREW SINGLE-HANDED

(Associated Press.)
With the American Army in France, Thursday, July 4.—For capturing a German gun and its crew single-handed, Private John Kukoski has been awarded the distinguished service cross. In appraising Kukoski of the award Gen. Pershing wrote him as follows: "I have just heard of your splendid conduct of June 8, when you, alone, charged a gun and captured it and its crew, together with an officer. I have awarded you the distinguished service cross and congratulate you."

VIENNA SAYS BRITISH STORM ATTACK FAILED

(Associated Press.)
Vienna, via London, July 4.—Continuation of the fighting in the delta of the Piave is reported in today's war office statement. The artillery fire was extraordinarily heavy in many sectors on the southwestern Austrian front. The breaking down of enterprises launched by British storming troops at Monte Silemol, near Asiago, is announced.

ROOR CROWN PRINCE! HE'S BEING IGNORED

(Newspaper Enterprise Association.)
London.—Emperor William is doing his utmost to put the crown prince into the foreground into the minds of his people, but he seems to be having a tough time of it. The German war correspondents, says an Amsterdam dispatch, are wilfully ignoring the prince's military merits. During the recent offensive on the Aisne and Marne, which the Kaiser tried hard to popularize as "the crown prince's battle," the Hun heir was deliberately slighted. All the credit for the gains made was given to the individual generals in command. In the accounts of the Kaiser's visits to the front, the correspondents do not mention his son's name. Of course he's furious about it, but what can he do?

STEAL CLOTHES FROM CHILDREN IN BERLIN

(Newspaper Enterprise Association.)
London.—A decently-clad child is no longer safe in Berlin. Scarcity of clothing is leading to the robbing of children of all their clothes on the streets.

Garage Rules Save Fuel.

(International News Service.)
Albany, N. Y.—Auto service at night and on Sundays will be eliminated during the Albany garage. Suggestions made by the government with a view to releasing mechanics for war service have been approved by local garage owners.

HAS CLEVER CONTRIVANCE TO HARVEST CLOVER SEED

(International News Service.)
Greenville, S. C.—An ingenious machine for harvesting clover seed has been perfected by J. L. Cannada, a pioneer clover raiser near Greenville. Mr. Cannada devised an exhaust fan mounted on a wagon driven by a small gasoline engine. A mouthpiece connected with the fan is lowered over the clover heads and the current of air lifts the seeds out and deposits them into a suitable receptacle. The machine is said to work perfectly.
